Writing

"Metro 2033"

I want to say a few words about the book, which I would like to see made into a film. Recently I have read a book of Dmitry Glukhorskiy "Metro 2033". It is very interesting book about nuclear post-apocalypse, which I want to recommend to read.

This story is about journey of young man in Moscow metro. The main character of this book is Artyom - one of the thousand survivors in global nuclear war. He lives at VDNKh station, which is always have to deal with attacks of dangerous mutants - the Darks. Hunter - old friend of Artyom's stepfather wanted to help citizens of station and revenge for deaths of VDNKh defenders goes to scout the situation in the Darks hire, but he doesn't return. Artyom also wants to help his station, so he goes to the Polis asking for help. And so begins his challenge. Metro is a very dangerous place. There are a lot of mutants, radiation and anomalies, but someone is more dangerous than all of them - humans. They are cooperated in underground states, trying to survive at all cost. So, how Artyom will make it? This you will know in the book "Metro 2033".

I think that a lot of fans of this book wants to see a film about it. This film will show people interesting story in the horrors of nuclear war and its aftermath. Also this film will talk about human cruelty and how people trying to survive. I think that the main problems why nobody wants to make a film are lack of cast and money, but still I insist that everyone want to see film "Metro 2033".

That's all I wanted to say about "Metro 2033". Enjoy your reading!
